

Mountains of Mourne

CAPO off

VERSE 1:

G
Oh, Mary, this London's
C Am
a wonderful sight,
D7
With people here working
by day and by night.
They don't sow potatoes
C Am
nor barley nor wheat,
D7
But there's gangs of them diggin'
G
for gold in the street
D
At least when I asked them,
G Em
that's what I was told
G
So I just took a hand at this A7 D7
diggin' for gold
G
But for all that I've found there,
C Am
I might as well be,
D7
In the place where the dark Mourne
sweeps down to the sea.

VERSE 2:

I believe that when writin'
a wish you expressed,
As to how the fine ladies of London were dressed.
Well if you'll believe me,
when asked to a ball,
They don't wear no tops
to their dresses at all.

Oh, I've seen them myself
and you could not in truth, Tell if they were bound for a ball or a bath.
Don't be startin' them fashions now,
Mary McCree,
In the place where the dark Mourne
sweeps down to the sea.

VERSE 3:

There's beautiful girls here,
oh, never you mind,
Beautiful shapes Nature never designed.
Lovely complexions of roses and cream,
But let me remark with regard to the same.
That if at those roses you venture to sip,
The colors might all come away
on your lip
So I'll wait for the wild rose,
that's waitin' for me,
In the place where the dark Mourne
sweeps down to the sea

VERSE 4:

You remember young Diddy McClaren,
of course,
But he's over here with the rest of the force.
I saw him one day as he stood on the strand, Stopped all the traffic
with a wave of his hand
As we were talking of days that are gone,
The whole town of London
stood there to look on.
But for all his great powers,
he's wishful like me
To be back where the dark Mourne sweeps down to the sea.
